

March 2008

Dear Employers and Youth-Resource Organization Leaders:

On May 29, you will have a unique opportunity to meet with more than 1,000 work ready young adults – all at one time and one place. The Pacific Gateway Workforce Investment Network and the Youth Council of the Workforce Investment Board are proud to present the fourth annual Youth Opportunities Fair. And, as a participating business or youth resource organization, you will pay no fees!

Besides helping you find employees or volunteers, the Fair will provide area youth with an array of options to assist them in attaining educational, employment and career goals.

You'll be able to discuss immediate and upcoming employment opportunities with young adults ages 16 – 24, and other work-readiness resources will be provided for youth ages 14 and older, including those offered by our Network's One-Stop Career Centers. Last year's businesses were able to interview and hire hundreds of employees on the spot.

You'll be provided, at no charge, parking, a draped table and two chairs in the main hall and, for your convenience, rooms to conduct private interviews.

Mark the date in your calendar now!
